INVESTIGATIONS AND REPORTS

DEVOIR D'ENQUÊTE

A duty to investigate... Usually, it is the examining magistrates who specify what the investigative duties ought to be. Magazine-style programme dedicated to keeping you up to date with what's going on in the Belgian courts. News in brief, big trials, and captivating stories supplemented in the studio by the presence of special observers.

UN MONDE À PART

ST

What you will see here, you will not see elsewhere. On this planet in which we travel by plane as we take a bus, where a thousand lenses are heading in the same direction to capture the same shot, Un monde à part will give a new look to the world to the public in what is most unexpected, surprising, improbable. You cannot imagine how this « Monde à part / World Apart » can surprise you.

J'AI LES CLÉS

Each show tells the incredible fate of a place full of history as well as the (sometimes intimate) anecdotes of those who lived there. They can be castles, abbeys, palaces, monuments or witnesses of the industrial history of our regions. Throughout his travels, Patrick Weber meets the extraordinary women and men who are on the front line to defend our heritage. These «guardians» are guides, archaeologists, enthusiasts or owners of prestigious or intimate places.

LA BELGIQUE CRIMINELLE

ST

Do you know what characterises a criminal? They are men and women of their time. Reliving the great criminal cases that have marked Belgium means re-immersing ourselves in Belgian history and its evolution. Because there's so much more to a crime than just a blood-soaked news item. It tells us of the despair of those living in its aftermath, like the way avid readers devour every last detail of a police investigation. Thanks to a look at crown court documents, we also see the history of the Belgian justice system and the changes it has undergone, as portrayed by the crime. Far more than just justice. Far more than just a crime. Far more than just a criminal.

MY TINY RESTAURANT

Opening a restaurant is the dream of many people with a passion for cooking. However, to be able to carry out such a project, culinary talent alone is not enough. You need a vision, a concept and also an entrepreneurial spirit. Ten teams of culinary enthusiasts will be able to compete in an exceptional competition where they will have to create the menu, the restaurant, the concept, in a «tiny» version of their dream idea. My Tiny Restaurant is RTBF's new culinary programme (but not only).

LES ANONYMES

We all know the code of Alcoholics Anonymous meetings: a circle, chairs, advice and confessions to overcome the monstrous scourge of alcohol addiction. This meeting is world famous... But who is talking about misogynists anonymous? Anonymous narcissistic perverts? Anonymous climate sceptics? Or anonymous serial killers? Each episode brings a different theme and presents a group of anonymous people suffering from a particular addiction around a mediator who tries to help them face their problem. The staging of their situation in a group allows us to laugh at societal problems or absurd situations imagined in anticipation of modern drifts or those directly resulting from our Pop Culture.

KOREAN CLASSICS GENERATION

ST

Over the past twenty-five years, young Korean musicians have appropriated a music that is far removed from their own culture: classical music, as played and composed in Europe for several centuries, has even become one of the pillars of Korean-style education. The film traces the journey of some of the winners of prestigious competitions who make up this new generation, known as the K-Classics Generation. In Korea, where it all began, and in Germany, where most of them have settled.

LE MONDE RESPIRE

ST

Between February and May 2020, almost the entire planet came to a standstill. The coronavirus and the initial lockdowns caught humanity off guard. For the first time in history, people have been ordered to stay at home and only go out for basic needs. It is clear that if we do not take advantage of the standstill caused by the health crisis to invent another world, we will probably have wasted our last chances.

L'HOMME AU HARPON

This full-length documentary series (8 x 30 minutes) follows Alain, 45, during his prison leave. He shot a harpoon arrow into the head of his mistress's husband, who did not die from his wounds. He is awaiting conditional release, and we follow him in his attempts to reintegrate, as well as his hunt for work and housing. We witness the damage done to his loved ones, two youngsters aged 19 and 21 and his father, aged 74. The family ship is steadily sinking, but Alain is unrelenting in his efforts to get back on his feet. Will he manage to overcome these obstacles? There are plenty of twists and turns along the way.

À LA RECHERCHE DES NOUVEAUX MODELES

ST

A mini-series documentary aimed at fighting stereotypes related to the LGBTQ+ community. Lesbian, bisexual, gay, transgender, intersex, queer, so many personalities put at a distance in all spheres of society. Four young adults, Fanny, Manon, Martin and Nancy, decided to go and meet them to question their own heteronormativity. By dismantling the clichés about this plural community, our four characters question the sexist and patriarchal system in which they have been blindly immersed for too long.

DIASPORAMA

Sixty years after the Democratic Republic of Congo gained independence, how many young Belgians straight out of secondary school are aware of the relationship which connects them to that country and the influence this connection has on their daily lives? The generation emerging from the double Congolese-Belgian culture often questions its identity, the way it understands the world... and they have very few resources to turn to. With Diasporama, the objective is to answer the questions of the young people of the Congolese diaspora, and to let their voices be heard.

KIN, TOUT EST VIE

This film takes us on a trip to Kinshasa with Belgian rap star Damso. This is not the first time Damso has returned, but this time, on the occasion of the release of a new album, the artist is back in his homeland. After three albums signed to Booba's label and the end of his contract, Damso has finally earned his freedom. The young artist has decided to direct his work towards what is essential to him. In particular, Africa. However, apart from the sound of gunfire, he has few memories of his youth. This is the story of a man who has become an icon in a country he does not know and which he is trying to meet. Wherever he goes, the frenzy of the audience follows him.
